The TROX hinged filtered grilles are ideal for return air and fresh air applications on residential and small commercial projects. They provide a good low cost alternative to "in duct filters"

These grilles are supplied with either a 'non-vision' 45 degree fixed blade core, or have an egg crate style core both of which are hinged and fitted with a filter.

The grilles are supplied with un-punched outer frames which are easily installed in inverted "T" type ceiling systems.
