

JS-B

The Multi-leaf damper is used primarily for volume control. It consists of a formed channel section frame, containing linked single skin formed blades, which can be arranged for either opposed or parallel operation. The unit is operated by an external lever which is suitable for connection to electric or pneumatic actuators, or to a locking quadrant for hand operation.